2nd Quarter 2022 Market Environment

The Economy

- Global economic growth continued to slow during the 2nd quarter as global central banks tightened monetary policy in order to fight persistently high inflation. Additionally, rising geopolitical concerns related to Russia's continued action in Ukraine, China's zero-Covid policy, and social unrest in emerging markets all contributed to the slowdown.
- The US Federal Reserve Bank (the Fed) increased interest rates twice during the quarter by a total of 1.25%. June's rate increase of 0.75% was the largest interest rate increase since the early 1990s. The Fed indicated that its primary focus is arresting the increase in inflation which could require additional rate increases.
- The US labor market continues to be a source of strength with the unemployment rate holding steady at 3.6% in June. The pace of job growth remains above the market's expectations with 390,000 and 372,000 new jobs created in May and June, respectively. Despite these gains, the number of available workers entering the workforce remains significantly below the pre-pandemic high.
- The US housing market showed signs of cooling as higher mortgage rates pushed many buyers out of the market. Importantly, housing starts and new building permits continued their downward trend which suggests future new inventory may fall short of demand. Finally, home price appreciation continued to increase as measured by the Cash-Shiller Home Price Index.

Equity (Domestic and International)

- US equities declined broadly during the 2nd quarter as worries regarding inflation, sharply higher interest rates, rising recession risk, and continued geopolitical events weighed on the equity market. Large cap value was the least negative (-12.2%) segment of the domestic equity market relative to other styles and capitalizations for the second consecutive quarter. Mid-cap growth was the worst performing style, falling 21.1% for the period.
- International stocks also struggled during the 2nd quarter as the continuing conflict in Ukraine and persistently high inflation drove markets lower. Western Europe was negatively affected by rising energy prices due to continued restrictions on purchases from Russia. Additionally, both the Euro and Yen currencies fell against the US dollar (USD) because of increasing uneasiness over future economic growth.

Fixed Income

- Concerns about current inflation levels, combined with the Fed's stated commitment to continue raising interest rates, were the primary drivers of return during the 2nd quarter. US interest rates moved significantly higher during the quarter with the US 10-Year Treasury bond rising 63 basis points to close at a yield of 2.98%.
- Performance was broadly negative across all bond market sectors during the quarter with US Treasury bonds holding up the most as market volatility increased.
- Investment grade corporate bonds underperformed higher quality mortgage-backed and US Treasury bonds during the quarter. High yield bonds also lagged their peers as fears over future economic growth and weaker corporate earnings drove credit spreads wider.
- Counterintuitively, TIPS underperformed nominal US Treasury bonds during the quarter as the bond market's future expectation for inflation declined.

Market Themes

- The pace of global central bank monetary tightening increased during the quarter with the both the Fed and Bank of England raising interest rates. The European Central Bank also hinted it would begin raising rates during the 3rd quarter.
- The crisis in Ukraine continues to negatively impact global economic growth. Specifically, recently imposed restrictions will likely result in higher energy costs in Europe just as economic growth begins to slow.
- US equity markets experienced their second consecutive negative quarter of performance and their worst start to a calendar year since the 1970s. Growth-oriented stocks significantly underperformed value stocks as investors' fears about rising inflation and future economic growth carried through to asset prices. Historically, growth stocks have underperformed value stocks as the economy slows.
- Interest rates continued to rise across the Treasury yield curve during the quarter as investors believe the Fed will continue to raise interest rates to fight inflation. The shape of the yield curve remained relatively flat between two- and ten-year maturities. Historically, the yield curve has been used as a leading indicator to predict the market's expectations of a recession.

- Broad US equity markets continued their recent trend delivering negative returns during the 2nd quarter of 2022. A variety of factors contributed to performance including persistently high inflation, the potential for future interest rate increases, geopolitical events in Ukraine, and concerns related to slower economic growth. For the period, the S&P 500 large cap benchmark returned -16.1%, compared to -16.8% for mid-cap and -17.2% for small cap indices.
- Developed market international equities also suffered negative results for the 2nd quarter. Europe continues to be negatively impacted by the ongoing crisis in Ukraine. Recently, restrictions related to Russian energy imports were imposed leading to further energy cost increases. For the quarter, the MSCI EAFE Index declined by -14.5%.
- Emerging markets were also under pressure due to the continued conflict in Ukraine and China's "Zero Covid" policy. During the period, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index fell by -11.4%
- Bond market performance was broadly negative for the quarter due to rising inflation and the prospect of additional interest rate increases. The Bloomberg (BB) US Aggregate Index returned -4.7% for the period while Investment Grade Corporate bonds posted a return of -7.3%. US Treasury bonds held up the most for the period, but still declined by -3.7%.
- The quarter's negative performance added to challenged returns of developed equity markets over the trailing 1-year period. The primary drivers of returns during the period were rising inflation, the path of interest rates, and future economic growth. The S&P 500 large cap stock index led relative equity market performance for the year but still returned a disappointing -10.6%. The downside outlier was the Russell 2000 small cap index, which declined by -25.3% for the year.
- Similar to domestic equities, the developed international and emerging markets suffered negative returns over the trailing 1-year period. The developed market MSCI EAFE Index posted a return of -17.8% while the MSCI Emerging Markets Index pulled back by -25.3%. Economic growth slowed throughout the year as monetary stimulus wore off and it became increasingly clear that high inflation levels were not transitory.
- Bond market returns also disappointed over the trailing 1-year period with the BB US Aggregate Index dropping by -10.3%.

Quarter Performance

1-Year Performance

Source: Investment Metrics

- Volatility increased during the 2nd quarter as each broad US equity benchmark posted negative results across both the style and market capitalization spectrums. Large cap stocks continued their leadership, followed by mid and small cap issues. The Russell 1000 Index declined by -16.7% for the quarter while the Russell Mid Cap Index and the Russell 2000 Index fell by -16.8% and -17.2%, respectively.
- Performance across styles and market capitalizations was disparate during the quarter. Value stocks handily outpaced their growth counterparts across market capitalizations. For the period, the Russell 1000 Value Index was the least negative performing style index, posting a weak return of -12.2%. Mid cap and large cap growth stocks fell even further with the Mid Cap Growth Index declining by -21.1% and the Russell 1000 Growth Index posting a return of -20.9%.
- Performance across all market capitalizations and styles were also negative over the trailing 1-year period. Much like the 2nd quarter, large cap stocks were down less than mid and small cap stocks for the 1-year period. The Russell 1000 Index returned -13.0% for the year but was down significantly less than both its mid and small cap growth index counterparts. The downside outlier during the period was the Russell 2000 Index which fell by -25.2%.
- The return dispersion across market styles was also wide for the trailing 1-year period and value stocks were down less than growth stocks by a two-to-one margin across large, mid and small style-based indexes. The return dispersion was extreme with the Russell 1000 Value Index returning -6.8%, and at the other end of the spectrum, the Russell 2000 Growth Index posting a return of -33.4%.

Quarter Performance - Russell Style Series

1-Year Performance - Russell Style Series

Source: Investment Metrics

- Economic sector performance was negative across all eleven large cap economic sectors for the 2nd quarter. Only four sectors were down less than the return of the broader Russell 1000 Index (-16.7%) on a relative basis during the period.
- Defensive sectors including consumer staples (-5.0%) energy (-5.1%), and utilities (-5.3%) were the least negative performing sectors for the quarter. Concerns about a potential economic slowdown drove the performance of consumer staples during the period. Energy prices remained elevated which acted as a tailwind for the sector. Economically sensitive sectors such as consumer discretionary (-25.8%), information technology (-21.3%), and communication services (-20.7%), significantly underperformed the broader index for the quarter.
- For the full year, seven sectors exceeded the return of the broad large cap benchmark: energy (40.0%), utilities (13.4%), consumer staples (5.3%), health care (0.4%), real estate (-7.3%), materials (-10.3%), and financials (-12.2%). The weakest economic sector performance in the Russell 1000 for the year was communication services (-30.6%).

- Small cap sector performance was also broadly negative for the 2nd quarter with all sectors posting negative performance. Five sectors were down less than the return of the broader Russell 2000 Index (-17.2%) on a relative basis. The consumer staples (-3.1%) sector held up the most for the quarter and the communication services (-27.3%) sector the was the weakest.
- For the trailing 1-year period, seven of the eleven small sectors outpaced the broad benchmark's return (-25.2%). However, only two defensive sectors posted positive performance for the year: energy (20.5%) and utilities (7.8%). The weakest sector over the trailing year was communication services (-47.2%).

As a result of the GICS classification changes on 9/28/2018 and certain associated reporting limitations, sector performance represents backward looking performance for the prior year of each sector's current constituency, post creation of the Communication Services sector.

As a result of the GICS classification changes on 9/28/2018 and certain associated reporting limitations, sector performance represents backward looking performance for the prior year of each sector's current constituency, post creation of the Communication Services sector.

- Fixed income markets were broadly negative during the 2nd quarter. Investors remained focused on rising inflation and the potential of future Fed rate increases to combat it. As a result, US Treasury bond yields were higher across the maturity curve during the quarter.
- The return for the BB US Aggregate Bond Index, the bellwether investment grade benchmark, was down -4.7% for the period.
- Performance across the investment grade index's segments was also negative during the period with the US Corporate Investment Grade bonds declining -7.3% and the US Mortgage index component posting a return of -4.0%.
- US Treasury bonds were the quarter's least negative segment, returning -3.8% and high yield bonds were the worst performing, declining by -9.8%.
- Outside of domestic markets, the BB Global Aggregate ex US Index fell by -11.0% for the quarter. Like international stocks, global bond index performance was negatively impacted by the strengthening USD, which acted as a drag on USD index returns. Additionally, yields in both German and Japan, two of the largest issuers in the benchmark, moved markedly higher during the period.
- Over the trailing 1-year period, domestic investment grade benchmark performance was negative and led lower by investment grade corporate (-14.2%) and mortgage (-9.0%) bonds. US TIPS (-5.1%) were down less than nominal US Treasury bonds (-8.9%). The bellwether BB US Aggregate Bond Index declined by -10.3% for the year.
- Primarily due to their shorter maturity profile, lower quality high yield corporate bonds fell by less than their investment grade counterparts with the BB US High Yield Index returning -12.8% for the period.
- Non-US bonds have been under significant pressure over the past year with the developed market BB Global Aggregate ex US Index falling by -18.8%. The combination of rising inflation, higher interest rates, a longer maturity profile, and USD strength contributed to weak index performance for the year.

- The gray band across the graph illustrates the range of the current Fed Funds Rate. In the 2nd quarter this year, the Fed raised the upper end of its target rate range from 0.50% to 1.75%. During its recent June meeting, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) stated that it remains committed to fighting higher inflation and will consider future interest rate increases. Importantly, the FOMC stated that it will begin lowering the size of the balance sheet by not reinvesting proceeds from maturing bonds.
- The yield on the US 10-year Treasury (green line) ended the period higher as concerns over the pace of inflation, combined with the Fed's announced rate increase, drove yields higher. After reaching a high of nearly 3.50% during June, interest rates traded fell for the remainder of the quarter. The yield on the US 10-year Treasury was 2.98% on June 30th.
- The blue line illustrates changes in the BAA OAS (Option Adjusted Spread). This measure quantifies the additional yield premium that investors require to purchase and hold non-US Treasury investment grade issues. For the full year, the spread widened to 2.04% from 1.07%. High Yield OAS moved significantly higher over the latter part of the year as spreads rose from 3.04% to 5.87%. High Yield spreads began moving wider during the year on concerns over slowing economic growth which raises the specter of a potential increase in defaults.
- The lower graph provides a snapshot of the US Treasury yield curve at the end of each of the last four quarters. The yield curve shifted significantly higher across all maturities during the 2nd quarter of 2022 following the Fed's decision to raise interest rates by 1.25%. The shape of the yield curve normalized during the quarter as longer-term interest rates moved above short-term rates. As of the end of the quarter, the spread between 2-year and 10-year rates was positive. Historically, market expectations for recession increase when longer-term interest rates trade below their short-term peers.

| Active Return                  | - Arithmetic difference between the manager's performance and the designated benchmark return over a specified time period.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Alpha                          | - A measure of the difference between a portfolio's actual performance and its expected return based on its level of risk as determined by beta. It determines the portfolio's non-systemic return, or its historical performance not explained by movements of the market.                                                                                 |
| Beta                           | - A measure of the sensitivity of a portfolio to the movements in the market. It is a measure of the portfolio's systematic risk.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Consistency                    | - The percentage of quarters that a product achieved a rate of return higher than that of its benchmark. Higher consistency indicates the manager has contributed more to the product's performance.                                                                                                                                                        |
| Distributed to Paid In (DPI)   | - The ratio of money distributed to Limited Partners by the fund, relative to contributions. It is calculated by dividing cumulative distributions by paid in capital. This multiple shows the investor how much money they got back. It is a good measure for evaluating a fund later in its life because there are more distributions to measure against. |
| Down Market Capture            | - The ratio of average portfolio performance over the designated benchmark during periods of negative returns. A lower value indicates better product performance                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Downside Risk                  | - A measure similar to standard deviation that utilizes only the negative movements of the return series. It is calculated by taking the standard deviation of the negative quarterly set of returns. A higher factor is indicative of a riskier product.                                                                                                   |
| Excess Return                  | - Arithmetic difference between the manager's performance and the risk-free return over a specified time period.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Excess Risk                    | - A measure of the standard deviation of a portfolio's performance relative to the risk free return.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Information Ratio              | - This calculates the value-added contribution of the manager and is derived by dividing the active rate of return of the portfolio by the tracking error. The higher the Information Ratio, the more the manager has added value to the portfolio.                                                                                                         |
| Public Market Equivalent (PME) | - Designs a set of analyses used in the Private Equity Industry to evaluate the performance of a Private Equity Fund against a public benchmark or index.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| R-Squared                      | - The percentage of a portfolio's performance that can be explained by the behavior of the appropriate benchmark. A high R-Squared means the portfolio's performance has historically moved in the same direction as the appropriate benchmark.                                                                                                             |
| Return                         | - Compounded rate of return for the period.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Sharpe Ratio                   | - Represents the excess rate of return over the risk free return divided by the standard deviation of the excess return. The result is an absolute rate of return per unit of risk. A higher value demonstrates better historical risk-adjusted performance.                                                                                                |
| Standard Deviation             | - A statistical measure of the range of a portfolio's performance. It represents the variability of returns around the average return over a specified time period.                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Total Value to Paid In (TVPI)  | - The ratio of the current value of remaining investments within a fund, plus the total value of all distributions to date, relative to the total amount of capital paid into the fund to date. It is a good measure of performance before the end of a fund's life                                                                                         |
| Tracking Error                 | - This is a measure of the standard deviation of a portfolio's returns in relation to the performance of its designated market benchmark.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Treynor Ratio                  | - Similar to Sharpe ratio but utilizes beta rather than excess risk as determined by standard deviation. It is calculated by taking the excess rate of return above the risk free rate divided by beta to derive the absolute rate of return per unit of risk. A higher value indicates a product has achieved better historical risk-adjusted performance. |
| Up Market Capture              | - The ratio of average portfolio performance over the designated benchmark during periods of positive returns. A higher value indicates better product performance.                                                                                                                                                                                         |
